Autumn SEND Newsletter 2024

Welcome to our very first termly SEND newsletter! A newsletter addressing all things related to SEND (Special Educational Needs and Disabilities). In this issue you will find out about what is SEND, how to seek support and useful links.

Hello to the Good Shepherd community! My name is Mrs Thomas, and I am delighted to have started in September as the school SENCO, based in school on Wednesdays and Thursdays. Working with children who have additional needs is a passion of mine and something in which I have become skilled and experienced in throughout my career. In my previous role, I was a Deputy Head and SENDCo in a specialist SEND provision and led on Inclusion. I am very much looking forward to working with you all and the school team. I value the engagement of our parents and carers so please do not hesitate to get in touch if you have any questions or would like to book a meeting.

What is SEND?

Special educational needs, often referred to as 'SEN' or 'SEND' (Special educational needs and disabilities), is a term used to describe learning difficulties or disabilities that make it harder for a child to learn compared to children of the same age.

All children may experience challenges with their learning at some point and for most children, these difficulties overcome with support from teachers and home. However, children with SEND are likely to need different help to be able to learn and develop.

A child or young person has SEND if :

They have greater difficulty in learning than the majority of other children and young people the same age.

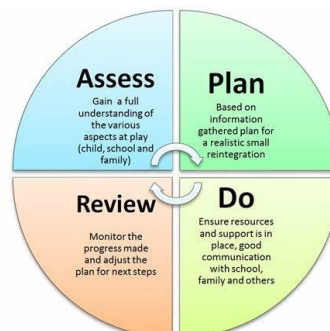

They have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools.

Early identification at The Good Shepherd

At The Good Shepherd, the children are at the heart of everything we do.

We aim to identify the needs of all pupils as early as possible. This is part of our graduated approach, in which we Assess, Plan, Do, Review. This on-going cycle ensures effective provision is put in place and also removes barriers to learning. We have a range of provisions and interventions taking place in our school to meet the needs of all children. You can read more about this, on the attached diagram.

What types of difficulties are SEND?

Children may have difficulties in one or more of these areas:

- ◆ Cognition and Learning - A child may find all learning difficult or have difficulties with specific activities such as reading or spelling. A child may have trouble understanding instructions and carrying out tasks. A child may have memory difficulties.
- ◆ Communication and Interaction – A child may have difficulty in talking to others or understanding what others are saying to them. A child may have difficulty with interactions with others, such as not being able to take turns. A child who has speech and language needs will be classed as having communication and interaction needs.
- ◆ Physical and Sensory – A child may have hearing or vision loss. A child may have difficulty with sensory processing, being under or over-sensitive. A child may have a medical condition which affects them physically.
- ◆ Social, Emotional and Mental Health - A child may display behaviours such as having very low self-esteem or being very anxious. A child may display challenging, disruptive or distressing behaviours. A child may have underlying conditions which affect their mental health.

If you have any concerns about your child or their progress; please contact either the class teacher or myself

Equal Opportunities

At The Good Shepherd, we place an importance of ensuring inclusivity both through the curriculum, throughout the daily life of the school and also outside of the classroom.

We explore how pupils with SEND are offered the same opportunities as other pupils and how our wider curriculum offers a range of learning opportunities for all.
